

Poll Backfires On Pollsters

Sentiment in Canyon this week was overwhelmingly in favor of Criminal District Attorney Aventura W. Lair, embattled by Attorney-General Candidate Tom James of Dallas and the powerful Whittenburg newspapers.

Pharmacist J. D. Byrd was one of the several businessmen reportedly interviewed in an Amarillo Globe-Times public opinion poll concerning the Lair controversy.

Byrd Monday said that in so far as he knows the poll was never printed.

"It was my understanding that it was to be printed," said the Canyon druggist. "I've never seen it in the Amarillo paper and I've looked for it."

"The girl who talked to me even asked me if I could be quoted and I told her I could be," Byrd continued. "She said she wanted to get the public's opinion about A. W. Lair."

The "girl" referred to by Byrd apparently was Miss Carol McMurtry of The Globe-Times staff. She has been covering Canyon in the absence of the reporter who normally comes here for the Amarillo newspapers.

Byrd said he told the Amarillo reporter that he feels that Randall County has one of the best criminal district attorneys in the state.

"I told her I thought the Amarillo paper was wrong in the position it has taken," he concluded.

Lair was criticized sharply by a House General Investigations Committee report for what it termed failure to bring criminal action against Roy Joe Stevens. The report is largely credited to Representative Tom James of Dallas. James was vice-chairman of a crime probe committee in Amarillo early last year.

The Canyon News ran a poll of its own.

"It's ridiculous," declared Jim Blake, who works in another Canyon pharmacy. "It looks like this character (James) is trying to get the attorney-generalship."

"I think Aventura Lair is doing just as good a job as any man could do in his job," said Tom Black, department store operator. "Aventura Lair is a good man and he will always be found on the right side. I've never found any fault with him and I've seen him act as district attorney in the grand jury room and in the court room. They (The Globe Times) just want to annex the county (Randall County) and run it from Amarillo."

"I think Aventura Lair should be given a pat on the back for a fine job done at his post," said City Manager Bill York.

"I feel that any news medium is obligated to review both sides of any controversy," York declared in answer to a question of whether he thought The Globe-Times had been fair in its news coverage of the Lair matter.

"I think we'd get along pretty good if we could keep the Amarillo paper from coming down here for a few days," said Jerry LaGrone, funeral home operator. "They can get the least little thing from Canyon and it becomes a big hassle. 'Yes, you can quote me!' Aventura Lair has been most competent," declared Canyon Mayor Delbert Lowes who also is a prominent Canyon businessman.

"I think he's been as thorough as he can be. He'll pursue anything he's got evidence on and his honesty is above reproach."

"I think they (The Amarillo Globe-Times) are unduly sniping at us," declared Roy Cheatham. Cheatham, who operates a men's store, praised the district attorney.

Clothing store operator W. A. Warren had this advice for the district attorney which he said he borrowed from Harry Truman.

"Give 'em hell from the beginning," he admonished.

"No sir!"

This was Insurance Commissioner Crossland's reply when asked if he thought the Amarillo papers had dealt fairly with this community in news coverage.

"How do you say it?" Crossland continued. "When somebody big looks down on small people. They're using their powerful position to persecute someone who doesn't occupy that position."

"I think it is strictly a smear campaign on the part of James," declared Bud Parker, who operates Western Auto Store. "I have the utmost confidence in Mr. Lair."

"Do you think that the Amarillo newspapers have dealt fairly with the Canyon community?" he was asked.

"No sir," he replied. "I'm for Lair all the way."

declared Don Singleton, operator of White Auto Store.

Worth Jennings, who operates a clothing store, was another interviewed by a woman whom he said represented herself as a representative of the Amarillo Globe-Times. He likewise said he expressed himself favorably to Lair in the controversy.

"I certainly do not think A. W. Lair would shirk his duty," declared E. E. Plank, Republican Precinct chairman.

FATAL ACCIDENT for Mrs. G.W. Cox occurred Saturday at about 5 p.m. at the intersection of 15th Street and highway 60. Truck struck the car door nearest Mrs. Cox.

Rites for Wreck Victim Held At Church of Christ

Funeral services for Margaret Leona Cox, 69, who was fatally injured in a car-truck collision Saturday were conducted Monday at 3 p.m. at the Church of Christ, Gordon Downing of the Church of Christ Bible Chair at West Texas State College, officiating.

Mrs. Cox was injured Saturday at about 5 p.m. when the car in which she was riding was struck by a truck loaded with 35,000 pounds of potatoes.

Her husband, G.W. Cox, was driving. According to investigating highway patrolmen, Cox had turned south from highway 60 onto 15th Street and the truck, driven by Glen Hubbard of Des Moines, Iowa, was coming east on highway 60.

Hubbard said he saw the car from about a block's distance away. He applied the brake and Duane Meyer of Pella, Iowa, who was accompanying him, sounded the horn.

The truck struck the car in the right door, according to patrolmen.

Mrs. Cox died about one hour later at Neblett Hospital.

She was born April 15, 1892, in Tennessee and was a member of the Church of Christ. She served as Randall County treasurer for 16 years. She and her husband resided at 1903 4th Avenue.

Neblett Services Today At Presbyterian Church

Funeral services for Dr. Robert A. Neblett, 59, prominent Canyon physician and surgeon, will be held today (Thursday) at 3 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. John Lars Hamerson, officiating.

Dr. Neblett died at Parkland Hospital in Dallas Tuesday about 2:30 p.m. He died in the recovery room shortly after a lengthy surgical operation.

A practicing Canyon physician for approximately 27 years, Dr. Neblett retired in 1959 due to failing health.

He opened the first wing of Neblett Hospital in 1937 and the clinic was closed from 1942 through February, 1946, while Dr. Neblett served as an army major at an evacuation hospital in the Pacific.

A noted civic leader, Dr. Neblett served as president of the Rotary club and the school board. In 1949 the Chamber of Commerce recognized him for his "... outstanding contribution to this community."

He served as president of the Randall County Medical Society and of the Panhandle District Medical Society. He was twice elected counselor of the third district of the Texas Medical Society, once in 1954 and once in 1959.

A member of the First Presbyterian Church, he served on the church's board of ruling elders.

Born at Jackson, Tennessee May 4, 1902, Dr. Neblett came to Canyon in the early 30's following his graduation from Texas University Medical School at Galveston.

He married Dorothy Burrow here June 1, 1929.

He and his wife resided at

DR. ROBERT A. NEBLETT (Britain Studio)

1100 5th Avenue.

Survivors include his wife of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Clay Kemper Perkins of San Diego, California; a son, Charles Robert Neblett, student at Baylor University Medical School; and two sisters, Mrs. William Morford and Mrs. Maurice Ballew, both of Jackson, Tennessee.

A memorial fund has been established in memory of Dr. Neblett at the First Presbyterian Church. Also donations may be made to the Children's Home at Amarillo.

Pallbearers will be Dan Sanders, Delbert Lowes, Dr. C.R. Nester, Clarence Thompson, Levi Cole and Dr. Ples Harper.

Honorary pallbearers will be Dr. James P. Cornette, Frank Kimbrough, Dr. E.J. Cundiff, Lee Foster, Dr. William A. Lockhart of Alpine, Dr. Paul White of Austin, Dr. Charles Bishop of Amarillo and all members of the Potter-Randall County Medical Society.

Interments will be in Dreamland Cemetery. LaGrone Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

One Week Remains To Join Guard

Only a week remains for men over 20 years of age to join Canyon's National Guard unit, according to Don J. Briggs, platoon commander.

Briggs said he received a letter last week from 36th Division headquarters in Austin stating that National Guard enlistments for men over 20 years old with no prior service are not available as of September 1.

"We still have approximately 20 positions to be filled in the unit and they will be filled on a first come, first choice basis," Briggs said.

He added that six months of active duty will still be required for men joining but due to the current draft increase no six month tours will begin until after the first of the year.

"This is an opportunity for those wishing to fulfill military obligations and still maintain civilian occupations to do so," Briggs said.

"But after September 1 our enlistments will be closed and those who are of draft age will lose this chance," he concluded.

Those who join during the next week will leave for six months of active duty sometime after January 1.

Encephalitis Cases Reported

Three cases of encephalitis have been reported here during the past few days, according to Dr. Manley Bryan, city health officer.

Dr. Bryan said the cases were all mild and no serious threat exists at the present time. He said there have been two cases of virus encephalitis and one as an aftermath of the mumps.

He said he does not know of a case of mosquito-borne infection. There has been no serious mosquito infestation here this year, the doctor declared.

The Thornton Deweys, who live northwest of Canyon, said a pony on their farm was stricken with an illness diagnosed by a veterinarian as encephalitis.

Registration Starts Today At Canyon High Auditorium

Enrollment for the 1961-62 public school year started today and will continue through tomorrow, according to Joe Gibson, superintendent.

Clauses will meet Monday, August 28, marking the official opening of the year. Also, buses and cafeterias will be in operation Monday with meal prices the same as last year, 30 cents at the elementary school and 35 cents at the junior high and high school.

Registration is being conducted as follows:

Thursday High school seniors--10 a.m. to 12 noon High school juniors--1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Friday High school sophomores--9 a.m. to 12 noon High school freshmen--1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Junior high school--Grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Elementary school-- grades 1, 2, 3 and 4--"A" through "M" 9 a.m. to noon "N" through "Z" 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

All high school students are requested to meet in the school auditorium rather than in the gym as announced earlier, according to J.E. Miller, principal. Junior high school students will report to the gymnasium at their school.

"All new residents of the school district who have children who will attend schools here and have not contacted us should do so at once," Gibson said.

He added that this will aid in planning bus routes and securing records from former schools.

This year, students at the junior high school will work in class rooms which have been remodeled throughout. Gibson said repairs there have included tile floors, repainting, a new plumbing system, and new fixtures in some rooms.

Dove Season Opens Sept. 1

Dove season for this area opens September 1, according to Stanley McDonough, game warden.

He said that the season will last through October 30.

"Shooting hours are from 12 noon until sunset," he added.

Bag limit will be 15 per day and possession limit will be 30.

"There are not too many doves on the plains," the game warden reported, "but it looks like we will have a good season below the caprock."

Miller Says Lair Aided In Stevens Probe

Two members of the district State Bar Grievance Committee this week said Randall County Criminal District Attorney Aventura Lair did everything he could to help the committee in the Roy Joe Stevens investigation.

Both Bruce L. Miller of Hereford and Guy S. Hardin of Shamrock say the Randall County attorney cooperated with the district grievance committee to the fullest extent.

Miller is chairman of the committee and Hardin is a member.

Hardin, who actually came to Canyon in connection with the probe, was most outspoken.

"I was there once or twice on the Stevens case and Mr. Lair was most cooperative," Hardin declared. "He made all the facilities of his office open to us."

Hardin bitterly assailed Editor Tommy Thompson of The Amarillo Globe-Times. Thompson's column in the Amarillo newspaper has come forth with caustic criticism of Lair.

"I think it's a bad thing they pulled on him (Lair)," the Shamrock attorney declared. "I think Thompson would like to run the whole Panhandle."

Hardin came to Canyon at the behest of the district grievance committee. He said he was accompanied by Amarillo attorney Deane Watson, and an assistant general counsel of the State Bar of Texas.

Miller said he knew of no instance in which Lair failed to cooperate with the committee. "I believe I would have heard about it if it had happened," Miller asserted.

Watson, contacted by The News, flatly refused to make a statement.

The district attorney here was severely criticized last week in a report issued by a House General Investigating Committee.

The report criticized Lair for what it termed failure to bring criminal action against Roy Joe Stevens. Stevens resigned as county judge and subsequently was disbarred following a House committee crime probe in Amarillo last year.

Representative Tom James, whom rumors say is being groomed by influential people in Amarillo for the office of attorney general, is credited largely with the report.

Chairman Charles Ballman of Borger told The News he signed the report on the strength of James' recommendation. Ball-

Hilltop Views

BY DR. J. A. HILL

On Monday of last week Mrs. Hill and I and Mrs. R. William Brown (Vida Savage), Mrs. Hill's daughter, returned from a four day visit in Las Cruces, New Mexico and its environs. We were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Stilh. Mrs. Stilh is a sister of Mrs. Hill and at one time was a student in West Texas State.

Mr. Stilh came to the Texas Panhandle in 1898 and spent 10 years cow-boying, cutting cedars in the Palo Duro Canyon, and farming. In 1908 he moved to the Mesilla Valley and began irrigated farming. He still lives on that original tract, though today his chief interests are investments. He knows that country like a West Texas cow knows the way to a water-hole; and he gave us the works. It was a revealing experience.

One of the most interesting and enlightening enterprises we saw at work was a honey-bee industry with more than 1,000 stands or gums and producing 100,000 pounds of honey annually.

You may wonder how one community can produce so much honey. Well, it doesn't. There are 30 "yards" or locations in this one bee-system, scattered as distant as the Hondo Valley more than 100 miles this side of Las Cruces. This Hondo fruit growing area rented 400 stands this last spring for cross-fertilization.

Mr. John K. Clayshulte is owner and operator of this amazing industry. He gave me the following facts about his project.

1. A graduate of the New Mexico State University, he is third in line of ownership, family wise, so that the bee industry there is an old one. Moreover, as a commercial enterprise it is one of a thousand in the U.S.

2. There are an estimated 75,000 bees in each hive, or a total of 75,000,000 in his project.

3. Bee culture, like other enterprises, has its problems. For example just last spring he lost 800 stands because of industrial smog from El Paso.

4. Clayshulte extracts honey three times a year, and the comb is used over and over. The extracted honey is strained to eliminate wax, which itself has commercial value. Because most customers prefer light to dark honey it is filtered to make it more attractive to the customers. As a matter of fact, the dark contains more vitamins and minerals than does the light.

5. Germs harmful to people cannot live in honey. It can even be used as an antiseptic on wounds. Eaten regularly it is said to be health inducing. In some respects it is better than sugar for sweetening because it is not so hard on kidneys.

6. Clayshulte says that "each bee stand has only one queen bee, but thousands of worker bees and drones (males). The drones serve little purpose except to fertilize the queen in the first few days of her life. From this fertilization she will produce hundreds of thousands of eggs for 2 or 3 years of her life. "She can produce drones or workers at will and is actually the mother of all the bees in a stand. The sexless worker bees are really the driving force of the hive."

7. "A stand of bees will work only one crop at a time and will not mix types of honey in the same comb. They feed the queen with royal jelly, which they secrete from glands in their heads. All larvae are also fed royal jelly for the first 36 hours. Royal jelly is thought by some to have remarkable qualities as an elixir of life, for the queen outlives the workers (whose life span is only about six weeks) 25 times. It sells for as much as $20 an ounce" and a few pharmaceuticals claim to use it in certain life-giving pills.

8. "When the queen's productivity begins to fall off, an interesting process called superseding takes place. The queen will lay 2 to 5 eggs in queen cups. These eggs are fed royal jelly by the worker bees. The first queen to emerge from the batch of eggs will destroy all the other eggs and therefore any possible rival. For awhile the old queen will live on with the new queen in the same stand and then will die."

9. When new fields are needed, bee scouts go out on exploring expeditions and come back to their stand to report their findings at a "bee dance" at which directions and type of crop are given.

10. "Bees carry nectar, says Clayshulte," in special sacs in their bodies and pollen in baskets on their legs. They turn over these supplies to younger workers who act as housekeepers and store the pollen and nectar.

11. "Nectar, the secretion of blossoms, is 88 per cent water, and bees evaporate this moisture until honey has only 10 to 12 per cent water, by fanning the breeze. That is, the bees vibrate their wings in a concerted effort to set up an air current within the stand and thus cause evaporation. The air current is strong enough to blow out a match at the mouth of the stand."

12. Bees never sleep, it is said, and have no coffee-breaks. They do take time to drink water, which seems necessary to their well-being. Take note though, that they drink water only. Only worker bees sting, and then only when made mad by interference with their private business (unlike people).

The bee, like the ant and the spider, sets mighty good example for human beings.

Letter To The Editor

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

My dear Mr. Martin:

The Canyon committee for the Heritage Foundation wants to thank you and the staff of the Canyon News for your help in spreading news about our drive for members in the Foundation. We have had great success thanks to the workers' prompt canvassing and were able to report enthusiasm and support of a great play with music and motion to the State Parks Board at its meeting in the Museum last Monday. It was our aim to invite everyone in Canyon to become a member of the organization, and we have tried to contact everyone by letter or by telephone or by a personal call. However, at this time of year, many are out of town, and may have missed our callers. We are asking the members of the Foundation and its friends to urge their neighbors to join if they haven't already. Mrs. Edith Eckhardt, the executive secretary, will be in the office space so kindly loaned by the Chamber of Commerce next to the Olympic Theater to explain the plan. Checks made out to the TEXAS PANHANDLE HERITAGE FOUNDATION INC. may be mailed to Box 268 Canyon, Texas and payments are tax exempt.

Be a part of this great gift to the nation!

Mrs. Ples Harper President
Mr. O.P. Cowart Vice-president
Mr. Jerry LaGrone Treasurer
Mrs. R.A. Neblett Secretary
Mr. Arent Lair Director
Mr. Raymond Raillard Director
Mr. Wm. A. Moore Director

This week The Canyon's Rim is directed to Editor Thomas Thompson of The Amarillo Globe-Times. Mr. Thompson has declared himself in favor of a public hearing in Canyon. We will hear Mr. Thompson a chance to answer some questions in public in The Canyon News, most thoroughly read newspaper in the Canyon community and possibly in Randall County.

Mr. Thompson holds a powerful position which has a direct influence on people living in the Tri-State area since it is almost impossible to obtain a daily newspaper in this section not published by the Whittenburg interests.

The Whittenburg group has a virtual monopoly on the daily press of Amarillo, Borger and Lubbock.

You have been very good at asking questions from the vantage point of your editorship, Mr. Thompson. You have so far neglected to answer questions put to you in these columns before. Let us see if you have the stomach for the public hearing you profess to desire.

QUESTION: Mr. Thompson, couldn't you have gotten almost anyone subpoenaed before the crime investigating committee you desired last year?

Thompson
QUESTION: Mr. Thompson you have received the Pulitzer prize for carrying the ball in the investigation which developed in Amarillo. Didn't you find in your investigations that Amarillo had been a "wide open" town for a number of years?

Thompson
QUESTION: Didn't you discover that about the turn of the last decade that Amarillo had wide open brothels and one of the highest venereal disease rates in the nation?

Thompson
QUESTION: Didn't you find that gambling and vice was not something that started in Amarillo during the middle 1950s but was something that had gone on for at least two decades?

Thompson
QUESTION: Mr. Thompson I believe we have agreed that you did have the ear of both the attorney general and the investigating committee which sat in Amarillo last year did we not?

Thompson
QUESTION: Then can you tell us why former Police Chief Sid Harper, now employed by the Whittenburg interests, was not called before the investigating committee?

Thompson
QUESTION: Mr. Thompson, can you tell us why Mr. Bill Adams, now Potter County judge in spite of no law degree, was not called before the committee since he was for many years sheriff of Potter County?

Thompson
QUESTION: Mr. Thompson, you are a newspaperman and the editor of a large and we certainly hope a responsible newspaper. Do you believe a newspaperman should have a code of ethics?

Thompson
QUESTION: Then Mr. Thompson, do you believe a newspaper is obligated to print both sides of a controversial question as a matter of ethics?

Thompson
QUESTION: Good. Now Mr. Thompson, can you tell us why a public opinion poll on the Lair controversy was never printed in your newspaper?

Thompson
QUESTION: Could it be Mr. Thompson that the poll was not printed because it went against the stand taken by you and your newspaper?

Thompson
Thank you Mr. Thompson. You may step down and cross examine if you wish.

The Amarillo Globe-Times has said that A.W. Lair is staking his reputation on the outcome of a grand jury hearing into the conduct of his office in connection with the Roy Joe Stevens matter. If this is true, then so are Representative Tom James, reported to be largely responsible for the House General Investigating Committee's report which criticized Lair, and Editor Thompson.

On the line will be James' image of an attorney fit to represent this state as attorney general.

The grand jury report also will give some indication as to whether Thompson in his newspaper has cracked down on a negligent public official or has shamelessly persecuted an able public servant.

Lowes Named to Mayor's Position at City Session

Delbert Lowes has taken over reins of mayor of Canyon upon the resignation of John Taylor. Action took place at a Thursday evening meeting of the city commission. Delbert Lowes, mayor pro tem at the time, read Taylor's letter of resignation. It follows:

"Dear Friends:
"It is with deep regret that I submit to you my resignation as mayor of Canyon, Texas. It has been a pleasure to work with you and the people of Canyon as I found you to be most cooperative and eager for the progress of your city.

"My family and I enjoyed the years we made our home in Canyon and we miss our friends there. I have been fortunate in obtaining ranchland where I can realize my dream of raising cattle and horses. I hope you will stop and visit with us at our home eight miles south of Hugo, Oklahoma, any time you are in this vicinity.

"May I extend to you my best wishes for the continued growth and prosperity of your city.

Very truly yours,

John Taylor"

Taylor, who sold his interests in Taylor-Evans several months ago, had been looking for a ranch since leaving business here.

The commission officially accepted Taylor's resignation and when Lowes called for nominations of a person to fill his (Lowes') place 5 on the commission, George Ritter, commissioner from place 3, said place 1 is vacant because it is the position which was held by Taylor. He added that Lowes could not move to place 1. Lowes said that since he assumed duties of mayor and the city charter states that the mayor occupies place 1, place 5 is vacant.

The matter was turned over to legal advisors for the city.

man was not a member of the investigating committee when it sat in Amarillo. He said he had no knowledge of any shortcoming on the part of Lair.

Rep. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, chairman of the committee during its Amarillo probe, said nothing came before the committee in Amarillo to indicate a laxity on the part of Lair. "No question ever arose about it," the former chairman declared.

He said that before leaving the committee he even suggested that it go on record as having found nothing wrong with law enforcement in Randall County. Blanchard had no part in making the final report.

Lair maintains that he has twice taken the Stevens case before Randall County grand juries since the crime probe in Amarillo but the grand juries did not see fit to return indictments.

Lair said most of the evidence that could be produced against Stevens was in the nature of accomplice testimony and as such was of little value either in producing an indictment or conviction. Under Texas law accomplice testimony is not sufficient to convict unless there is corroborative evidence to substantiate it.

Lair told newsmen last week that if the grand jury finds any official misconduct on his part he will "submit my resignation immediately to the proper authority."

In round about language Lair accused Thompson of newspaper "sensationalism" and referred to James as a "cheap political opportunist."

List of those subpoenaed include S. B. Whittenburg, Globe-Times publisher; Tom James, Thompson, Blanchard; House investigating committee members, Menton Murry, Lloyd C. Martin, Ballman, and John Allen. Davis Grant, general counsel for the State Bar Association, also will appear.

Former grand jurors who will appear include Homer Kinsey, Jack Hardin and Gordon Fielden.

DELBERT LOWES... new mayor

Paul Lindsey, a former commissioner who was present at the meeting was named to fill the vacated post.

Lindsey and Charles Donnell were present to make recommendations to the city in regard to water and allied service charges. The commission accepted their recommendation of "no change at present."

An examining fee of $10 and a license of $50 was recommended for electricians before

James told The News that he "had information" that Lair had not taken the Stevens case before a grand jury since the crime probe last year.

"If he has taken it before a grand jury then that is different," the representative declared.

Almost a score of witnesses will be paraded before a Randall County grand jury Sept. 6 to testify on Lair's conduct of the district attorney office in connection with the Stevens case.

they can do work in the city by the commission. This was passed on to the electrical board for study.

L.S. Johnston appeared before the commission to receive a water sewer extension payback of $533.75. This was for work done in June, 1958.

Bill York, city manager, presented a compiled list of personnel policies for clarification. He went through city commission minutes and recorded all policies into one part. He pointed out that no changes have been made in policies.

Auto bid opening date has been set for October 9, the commission's first meeting in October.

West Texas State College's request that campus security officers be granted a city police commission was denied. Legal counsel advised the city that it cannot enter into contractual obligations contrary to state law.

C.L. Barnes of Amarillo was selected to maintain the city dump. Lowes was authorized to enter an agreement with Barnes.

The city is studying costs of an animal shelter and commissioners decided they have two alternatives. Canyon can either build and maintain a shelter or rent one. Decision on the matter will be made at a later date.

Commissioners also authorized York to mow lots in the city and bill owners. York said that he sent letters to owners of lots which needed mowing August 1 and stated that the work must be completed by August 15.

He pointed out to commissioners that no action was taken on some of the lots. They then told him to have the lots mowed and bill owners for the service.

Reese Martin of the state parks board brought his grandson with him to the meeting in Canyon this week. While Grandad was in a business session at the museum the young man toured the exhibits. Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce manager, struck up a conversation with him and got around to the subject of the trip up from Beaumont.

"I guess you flew up," Black said the young man.

"Yes," was the reply.

"How long does it take?" Black continued.

"Well, it takes all day if you leave in the afternoon," the young man concluded.

Thieves have started working overtime around Canyon. Friday at noon a new bicycle belonging to Craig Parker was taken from behind Western Auto. Craig had only had the bike since the evening before.

That night Clark Jarman's brief case was taken from his car parked in front of his house on 3rd Avenue. The next morning Clark found papers scattered through town toward the Hereford highway.

The same night a suitcase was taken from a car belonging to visitors at the Glenn Sparkman residence in Pioneer Estates. Dorothy Sparkman said there was a purse in the car but it was missed.

Then Sunday night a can of gasoline was taken out of a pickup belonging to O.M. Lindsey who lives across the street from the Sparkmans.

L.D. Caldwell, chief of police, said that he has few clues with which to work.

"It would be a good idea to take any valuables out of your car at night and certainly take the keys out," Caldwell urged.

Museum Receives Steer Horn Chair

Panhandle-Plains Museum has received a steer horn rocker which is estimated to be from 85 to 100 years old, according to C. Boone McClure, museum director.

The chair once belonged to the Moreland family. They lived in Canyon before and during the building of West Texas State College.

The chair will bear a plaque stating that the chair was donated to the museum by the children of Mrs. S. J. (Aunt Mollie) Moreland.

Burglars Take 20 Tires From Brasher Oil Co.

Burglars entered the Brasher Oil Company warehouse off the railroad tracks near the depot sometime Tuesday night and got off with more than $680 worth of merchandise, according to L.D. Caldwell, chief of police.

Caldwell said the thieves entered through a back window near the tracks and apparently carried goods out the front. Missing were 20 new tires, most of them white walls, and a metal tool box.

Also entered was the Mag-nolia warehouse which is west of Brasher. Apparently nothing was taken there.

Presbyterian Picnic Held

The annual church picnic of the First Presbyterian Church in Canyon was held on Sunday afternoon the 20th of August, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob White located on the Washington St. road near Camp Don Harrington. Members met at the church before departing for the picnic area.

Fried chicken dinners were served at tables under the trees, followed by games of volleyball, baseball, and various contests.

Park Job Divided Into 2 Positions

Members of the Texas State Parks Board Monday voted unanimously to stand by a previous decision dividing operations in Palo Duro Canyon State Park into two distinct groups—the concessions and park management.

O. P. Cowart, who is presently park manager and concessionaire at Palo Duro, told the board he would like an opportunity to continue under the present situation with the proposed budget for next year.

"I think the figures on money and attendance will show that I have done a good job," Cowart told the board.

"I recently received a letter from Bill Collins (executive director of the board) stating that I would have to choose between the two positions on or before October 15.

"I do not know what to expect from either. I don't see how I can make an intelligent choice."

Salary for the manager's position will be $5,900 per year, in addition to use of the house located at the park gate.

"I have not been able to be a park manager on a salary of $150 per month," Cowart added.

He then asked for the opportunity to have a one-year trial as manager-concessionaire with the $24,000 budget set up for managerial expenses.

J. Carter King, chairman of the board, told Cowart that the action on the position had not been taken because the board felt that Cowart has not been a good park manager.

"This was one of the things brought out by the research league and we feel that Palo Duro is the park where the plan can be initiated," King added.

Reese Martin, board member from Beaumont, emphasized that the step was being taken due to the league recommendation.

Collins said Cowart will have exclusive right on park concessions if he chooses to be concessionaire.

In other business the board tabled action on a lake for Palo Duro pending a report from state water engineers.

Frank Davis of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce said there is a definite need for water.

"People are hungry for it—they're crying for a lake in the park," he said.

Glenn Hatfield, consulting engineer from Amarillo, presented a report concerning a proposed lake in Sunday Canyon in the park.

He said that construction of the lake would cost approximately $160,000.

Board members questioned Hatfield on time of filling.

"If it had been built last fall water would have been within a foot or two of the spillway at the present time," he answered.

Martin asked if there would ever be time when the lake would be completely dry.

"I don't believe so," Hatfield answered. "Of course, there might be times that the lake would be unsuitable for recreational purposes."

A state engineer from Lubbock said the lake would only be full 10 to 15 per cent of the time and would be two-thirds full only half of the time.

The state water engineers have not completed their report on the lake and action is pending the report.

A representative at the meeting said his office should complete it before the end of September.

Dr. and Mrs. W.J. Wooten and Ronnie, are at Conches Lake for a few days of fishing. Mrs. Wooten returned earlier this week from a visit with her family in Rule, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burton are in Borger visiting his family.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wesley will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary in their home at Happy, Sunday, August 27, beginning at 3 p.m.

Their children and neighbors will be in charge of the open house, and friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Capt. and Mrs. Everett M. Glenn, U.S.N., and their two daughters, Marsie and Donna, were recent guests in the home of his father, Everett W. Glenn.

tember.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of West Texas State College, told the board that he felt that the lake would never be dry.

"When Buffalo Lake was built, I went out to the site with two other men and we found only a small stream there," he said.

"But the lake has always had water."

Wendell Mayes, vice-chairman of the board of Brownwood, said he wants the people of Canyon and Amarillo to know that the board is not against the lake but it is the duty of the board to see all reports before making a decision.

Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., appeared to discuss possible production of a symphonic drama in the state park.

The Board gave verbal approval to the project and pointed out that it would be a great added attraction.

"We are planning on opening in 1962 or 1963," she told them.

She said that $160,000 would be required to open.

Frank Quinn of Austin asked Mrs. Harper what she wanted of the parks board.

"First, we would like a location. Second, we would have to have a concession contract. Then if you feel that interest is great enough and would underwrite part of it, it would give us a substantial boost."

King told Mrs. Harper the board will cooperate any way possible.

"As far as finances, we will have to discuss that when the time comes," he added.

At the next board session available funds will be reviewed and the board will report to the foundation, he said.

In other Palo Duro business, Bob Garner of Amarillo asked for use of the park road to some land at the south end of the park.

"We are forming a private club and would like to use the road, paying a yearly entrance fee," he told them.

King told Garner to make his proposition in writing and the board would act on it at the next meeting.

The board adjourned after taking care of routine business for several other parks.

JOE GIDDEN AND J. CARTER KING, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board, visit at Panhandle-Plains Museum following the board meeting Monday. Gidden is president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Triplett and boys visited friends at Dawn Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brundage of Mangum, Oklahoma, have been in Canyon this week to visit in the home of their son, Bill Brundage, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stewart and Buddy of Dawn were Sunday evening visitors in the Arvin Triplett home.

Mr. and Mrs. A.K. Goodman returned Tuesday from a six weeks trip through the eastern part of the country. They spent time in the Smokey Mts., Washington D.C., Philadelphia, New York City and points of interest along the Hudson river.

On the return trip they stopped in Toledo Ohio to see Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kendrick and their four sons. Mrs. Kendrick is the former Mary Elizabeth Dufort of Canyon.

Eagles Look Good in Littlefield Scrimmage

Canyon Eagles made a good show in a scrimmage with Littlefield Tuesday evening, according to Jeep Webb, head coach.

Webb said the Eagles looked pretty good and allowed only one score.

"Littlefield scored on a pass play," Webb pointed out.

"They were running outside and we had to make some defensive changes," he added. "Our middle defense looked good throughout the scrimmage, though."

On offensive work Webb commented: "We didn't move the ball as well as we wanted to."

He said that the team will concentrate on this during the next week.

First match for the Eagles will be a home game with the Slaton Tigers. Game starts at 8 p.m. at Buffalo Stadium.

Probably starters on offense will be Wayne Rutherford and Gary Lee at ends; Jess Sheets and Tim White at Tackle; Terry Funk, Donald Britling and Ronny as linebackers, Ralph Cabe and Ronny Brock as corner backs (outside linebackers); Harry Lisle and Doug Ward as halfbacks.

Webb said most of the boys played last year with the exception of Donald Britling who is a sophomore.

Other sophomores who will appear during Eagle games will be Don Hawkins, end; Eddy Poole, end; John Stritzel, center; Jim Whinnery, half back.

Webb said that Truit O'Donald will not be able to join the team during the season due to a knee injury.

"He reinjured a knee during practice the other day and we'll have to do without him," Webb commented. O'Donald has already undergone an operation for a previous injury on the same knee.

Football schedule for the Eagles follows:

Slaton, here, September 1; Hereford, there, September 8; Perryton, there, September 15; Phillips, there, September 22; Sunray, here, September 29; Floydada, here, October 6; Dimmitt, here, October 13; Dalhart, here, October 27; Tulia, there, November 3; and Friona, there, November 10.

Conference games will be with Dimmitt, Dalhart, Tulia and Friona.

To All Sugar Beet Growers Associations

Dear Sirs:

The Honorable W. R. Poage has introduced a bill in Congress which gives the growth factor-- about 130,000 tons a year, to domestic production, with 25% going to cane, and 75% going to new beet-growing areas. We have been pushing to get this bill, known as the Poage bill, passed this season of the Legislature, as this was the most we could hope for at this time.

The administration is standing in the way, as they have asked Congress to postpone sugar legislation until next year. We have asked all the associations and all communities interested, to write President Kennedy personally, asking him to please have Congress enact legislation this If this is not done this session, of course, it will postpone commencement of processing mills. that it may make him realize that something should be done, and that he would overrule the State Department and the other phases of the administration in going along, at least with the Poage bill, since Mr. Poage is certainly an administration follower, and if he would request the Congress or the Chairman of the House Agricultural Committee, Mr. Cooley, to pass the bill as an amendment this session, it would sail right through.

You noted, I am sure, in yesterday's paper where Mr. Kennedy called upon Congressman Shelley of San Francisco to flood Secretary McNamara with letters to keep the shipyard in Boston, his home state, from being closed. There is nothing unusual in giving the President the same treatment, and it serves three purposes in that these letters will be noted and counted by the President, also by the Secretary of Agriculture to whom he will send them, and also by the head of the Sugar Section who probably will answer them.

If someone can write these letters for your merchants and different ones and be for sure that they are mailed immediately and now, it is most important.

A meeting has been called for the 29th by the Secretary of Agriculture at the Shirley Savoy Hotel in Denver at 10:00 o'clock A. M. to receive views on the 1962 sugar beet crop and acreage program. We can file statements at this meeting. We are planning to attend, and I think that it would be well if every association would prepare and file statements as to the urgency of new growing areas being permitted to get under way with production and construction of mills.

The secretary of Agriculture has suggested that one million tons, which is about one-third of the Cuban quota, should be set aside for domestic production. This is much farther than Poage of Cooley have ever dared to go, and I think that insofar as the Agricultural Department and the administration is concerned, we should continue to insist for this large increase in domestic production for all of the many reasons we have heretofore set forth, such as the benefit to the farm and National economy, the United States Treasury, the well being of the American citizens, the competition with Russia, etc., etc.

One other important thing that may come up at the Denver meeting will be whether or not the present beet processing companies will take care of the refining of an additional million tons of sugar, and I think it would be well to outline to the Secretary that there are many new persons, new investment dollars, new concerns and new cooperatives, that will certainly provide the processing facilities for all the sugar which the Secretary will permit produced in this country.

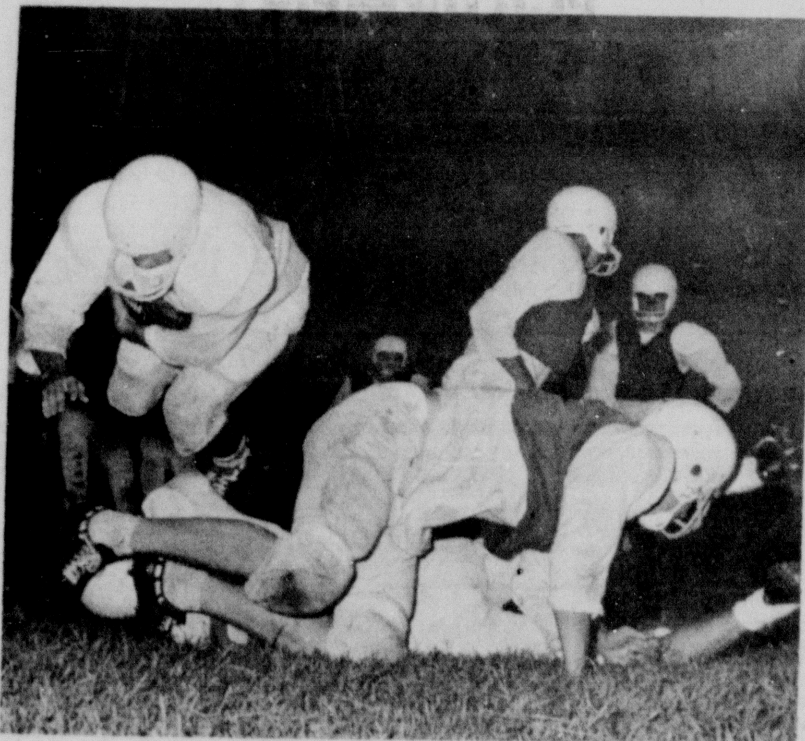

Thanking you, we are

Yours very truly,

James W. Witherspoon

Randall Farmers to Decide
On Wheat Quota Referendum

Randall County wheat farmers vote today (Thursday) in the 1962 wheat marketing quota referendum.

They may cast ballots at any one of seven voting places in the county, according to Doyle

Thomas, secretary, county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who produced more than 13.5 acres of wheat in any one of the past three years, including the current year. Producers who signed applications under the feed wheat provisions permitting them to grow wheat for feed use only on their farms for 1961 will not be eligible to vote.

Producers who vote in the referendum must decide between (1) marketing quotas with penalties on wheat produced in excess of 10-percent lower 1962 allotments, a minimum national average support price of $2.00 per bushel in 1962, and wheat stabilization payments for diverting the 10-percent wheat acreage from production to conservation; or (2) no wheat marketing restrictions in 1962, no wheat stabilization payments, and price support at 50 percent of parity to those farmers who comply with their 10-percent lower 1962 allotments.

The current parity price for wheat is $2.37 per bushel. The results of the referendum will determine the kind of wheat program that will be in effect for next year's crop.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock this morning (Thursday) and close at 6 o'clock tonight.

Voting places by community include (A) ASCS office in Canyon, (B) Sunny-Hill-Fairview at Ralph Switch, (C) Jowell at the Jowell Community Building, (D) Umbarger at Umbarger High School Auditorium, (E) Highland at the John Plank barn, (F) Trigg-Zita at the Haney Elevator and (G) at the Lyle Bennett home.

Frank Kimbrough Jr. has returned to Canyon from a three weeks visit with Capt. and Mrs. Sandy Oliver at Ft. Monroe, Va. Mrs. Oliver is the former Beth Kimbrough of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Vester Hill of Spearman were in Canyon recently to visit in the home of her mother, Mrs. Worth Jennings, Sr., and with other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Gardner and Richard have returned from a vacation and fishing trip to Table Rock Lake, and other points of interest in Missouri.

Jones Refuses Petition
For McCormick Blacktop

Commissioner B.R. Jones of Precinct 1 Monday in Randall County Commissioners Court refused a petition by Bob Underwood of Amarillo to blacktop a strip of county road in that commissioner's precinct.

Completion of the paving of McCormick Road was requested by Underwood as he appeared before the court.

Underwood said that only a mile of the road running between Washington Street and the freeway remains to be blacktopped. He said about three miles of it already has been paved and caliche has been applied to the remaining mile.

He said he and several other property owners had an agreement last year with Bailey McCormick, then commissioner of Precinct 1, that the remainder of the road would be paved. Underwood said he and the other property owners put up $1200.00 for that purpose.

B.R. Jones, now commissioner of the precinct, said he did not feel that he was under any obligation to carry out any promises made by his predecessor and flatly refused to do so.

He agreed to a refund of money paid in to the county by the property owners. A.W. Lair, criminal district attorney and county attorney, advised Jones that he was obligated only to refund on a pro-rata basis in accordance with the amount of work already completed.

The tax man pointed out that last year 25 percent of actual valuation was taken on personal property and 20 percent on real property. This year 15 percent of actual value has been figured across the board.

The annual reunion of the Cowart family was held Saturday, August 19, at the San Jacinto Community Center in Amarillo.

In attendance from Canyon were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cowart and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gilmore, and Mrs. Theo Wise, formerly of Happy, now of Amarillo.

This year those in attendance made special note of the presence of Mrs. Ida Cowart of Amarillo, who is the 91-year-old mother of Pete Cowart.

A noon meal was served before the departure of the members of the family.

Blasdel, de Schweinitz Back From 2-Month Tour of East

Canyon's "roving ambassadors," Eugene Blasdel and Clark de Schweinitz, returned last week from an eight-week trip which took them through 22 states.

"We decided that the best way to decide on which college to attend was to actually see some schools," they both explained the reason of the trip which covered just over 7,000 miles.

Leaving Canyon the morning of June 15, they returned August 15.

"I believe the trip was beneficial in that we saw the schools and, at several of them, visited with students and faculty members," Clark de Schweinitz said.

"We must have visited 20 colleges and universities," he added.

Eugene Blasdel said that at some of the schools they would only visit the campus but at others would stop and talk with students, faculty members and even visit classes in session.

But the most fascinating thing about the trip for the two was the people.

"On the whole, people were quite friendly," they both pointed out. "People in other sections just have a different way of expressing friendship."

"Of course, we occasionally came across someone who treated us as tourists and was only interested in our money."

Blasdel pointed out one episode of car repair as an example.

"We were having trouble with the transmission and stopped at a garage to have it repaired. They looked under the car, drove it a few minutes and when they returned, told us it would cost approximately $100 to have it repaired."

"I told them we didn't have

TWO-MONTH tour of eastern colleges ended last week for Clark de Schweinitz, left, and Eugene Blasdel. The two were in 22 states and visited Canada while traveling. They will be seniors at Canyon High School this year.

time or the money to have it repaired and started to drive off. One of them came running after us waving a bill for $1.50 for checking the car."

But there were several times when they had to stop for repairs.

In addition to 80 quarts of oil and 450 gallons of gasoline, the car required two rear end repairs, a transmission and a clutch.

"The rear end trouble started first," they explained.

A hole in the housing appeared and they were delayed about a day. Then, as they started over the Allegheny Mountains in West Virginia, the rear end burned out and locked both back wheels.

"We had started down this incline when the wheels locked. There was a very sharp drop to one side of the road and a sheer cliff to the other. It was our closest call during the whole trip. The car whipped from one side of the road to the other and finally came to a stop in the middle. Lucky for us, there was no traffic at that time."

"A trucker came along, pushed us off the road and carried us to a small town a short distance away."

The boys spent three days and two nights in the town while the rear end was being replaced and said the people there were very cordial.

"They went out of their way to be hospitable to us."

Other car troubles included a transmission replacement stop in Maine and final clutch repair in Oklahoma City.

Interesting sidelights of the trip included a stay in New York City, a visit to Canada and being lost in the Pentagon.

While visiting in New Jersey they commuted with a friend and saw many sights there. One evening they missed the train back to New Jersey and spent the whole night observing city night life.

On their visit to Canada, they went to Montreal and took a guided tour.

But, what they consider one of their funniest experiences was being lost in Washington.

"It had started to rain and we pulled under an overpass to put up the top of the car. We pulled out on the road and started driving. We couldn't see where we were going because of the heavy downpour and finally pulled under what looked like another overpass. There were some soldiers standing around and we asked them how we could get to Washington."

"They broke into laughter and said we were already in Washington. We then asked them where we were and they told us we were in the Pentagon."

The trip took them through Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, Ohio and Kansas.

As a final result of the journey, the boys have narrowed their schools down to two or three.

"We now have to study the courses offered, requirements for entering and costs."

The Fall of the year provides many exciting moments when the first fashions come out. Every woman's (and I feel every man's eyes are also measuring the worth of the new merchandise) spirits seem to soar upward when the beautiful new materials appear in wearing apparel.

In an August 6, special release from Neiman-Marcus of Dallas, five designers were given the 1961 Neiman-Marcus Fashion Awards.

They are Miss Greer Garson, star of stage, screen and television; Mr. Sydney Wragge, designer of sophisticated American casuals; Mr. Harry Rolnick, President of Byer-Rolnick Hat Corporation and designer of men's hats; Count Ferdinand Sarmi, creator of chic, beautiful fashions for women, and Mr. Roger Vivier, shoe designer from Paris, France, whose squared toes and lowered heels have revolutionized the shoe industry.

Both Miss Garson and Mr. Rolnick are "transplanted Texans."

There have been so many that complained about the pointed toes on shoes, that perhaps this very smart designer, Mr. Roger Vivier, listened intently to the ladies who rebelled against the needle points and popped up with the new "square" look.

Never fear that if the "square" look is the "new" look, every one of us females will rush out and buy a pair.

Those who always say that they just aren't "artistic" at all, never seem to realize that the excitement they feel when the new fashions arrive is just part of their natural love of art, and it inspires their enthusiasm for beautiful new colors, designs, fashions, household goods, cars, and millions of other things!

In September, which isn't too far away, you can start thinking of Christmas!!!!!! But if you plan to make a few things or if you design part of your decorations, this is a good time to start planning ahead. I read a good idea somewhere and it seems to be very practical but interesting way to use the small, square, plastic strawberry cartons that most of us bought this summer. Turn two boxes together to make a large lacy cage. Either tie, or fasten the two boxes with string or wire; then you can spray the decorator color you wish to obtain. You could tie a sparkling ball inside the cage. Hang the decoration from light fixtures or in other spots for a beautiful effect.

Biology Offered to CHS Freshmen for First Time

Freshmen at Canyon High School this year will have a chance to enter an advanced science program if previous grades justify, according to J. W. Miller, principal.

Miller said that since science programs have been started up in the junior high many of the students only repeat work in the first year general science course at high school.

"This year we are going to allow freshmen with outstanding science grades to take biology," he pointed out.

Then as sophomores they may take chemistry and as juniors, physics.

Miller said that a new advanced science course will be offered in three years for students who have successfully completed the new program.

Again this year, students coming from junior high schools with a B average in mathematics will be allowed to begin high school math with algebra.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Gene Adkisson, Manager

"GRASS ROOTS CAPITALISM"

The newspapers recently ran a story that I thought was pretty significant. It gave real insight into our American economic system. The story reported that, for the first time, an American business had 2,000,000 owners. This important "first" was achieved by the Bell System, of which my company is a part.

Hugh and Irene Polson of Wichita, Kansas, are the two millionth shareholder. Pictured with them above are their two youngsters — Kay Louise, 9, and Stephen Hugh, 7.

The Polsons own and run their own pharmacy. And, even though they keep plenty busy with the drug store and duties at home, they take part in church, PTA and community activities. Mr. and Mrs. Polson own ten shares of stock. They bought it as part of an investment plan to send their children to college. Like the Polsons, a great many investors — 335,000, in fact — have fewer than 10 shares. Of the two million shareholders, nearly 850,000 are women and 300,000 are telephone employees.

This is a real evidence of "grassroots capitalism," and I think Mr. and Mrs. Polson typify many of today's "grassroots" investors, who come from all walks of life, from all sections of the country.

As I said before, here is a truly significant story. Here is the nation's largest business, the Bell System, now owned by 2,000,000 people. Here is a dramatic testimonial to the American economic system. Here is democracy at work — with all the world to see.

Explorers Take Pecos Journey

Ten members of Explorer Post 66 and their advisor took an eight day pack and fishing trip through the Pecos Wilderness area on the headwaters of the Pecos River in New Mexico recently.

The boys hiked more than 40 miles and fished in several lakes and streams. Some members of the group took a 14-mile cross-country hike from Johnson Lake to Baldy Lake.

James Boyd and Wayne Lindsey climbed Pecos Baldy Peak, 12,600 feet. Joe Whittington and Explorer Advisor Bob White climbed South Truchee Peak, 13,100 feet—second highest peak in New Mexico.

Making the trip were James Boyd, Ritchie Brotherton, Wallace Busted, Wayne Lindsey, Harry Lisle, Larry Moore, David Perkins, Bill Phillips, Tim White, Joe Whittington and White.

FINAL STAGES of construction on the Randall County Junior Livestock Association exhibition building have started and the building fund is still short by several thousand dollars. Above, members of the association are pictured with the contractor. From left are Christler Crain, Duane Howard, John Brazzil, Bill Willson, Otis Parker and Fletcher Sims, contractor. Wilson, who is heading the special building fund committee, said last minute donations will be appreciated.

Methodists to Hear Missionary

The Rev. Bill Elder, Methodist missionary to Japan will speak at the morning worship service at the First Methodist Church, August 27, at 10:50 a.m. Mr. Elder is on furlough and is speaking at churches in this area.

Since 1955 Mr. Elder has been doing evangelistic and pastoral work for the United Church of Christ of Japan, of which Methodism is a part. He has held special evangelistic services in the Tottori area in southern Japan, and was pastor of a church for three years.

During three years of special-term missionary service (1958-1961), Mr. Elder was an educational missionary, having taught at Chinzai Gakuin, a Methodist-related school in the city of Isahaya.

Born in Caldwell, Arkansas, Mr. Elder spent his early life there and attended Hendrix College, Conway, Arkansas, and was graduated in 1947 with a bachelor of arts degree. He took theological training at the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, and received the bachelor of divinity degree in 1955.

The Rev. Elder's home in America is Little Rock, Arkansas. Mrs. Elder's home is Amarillo where she was a member of the San Jacinto Methodist Church. She was a resident of Canyon while attending West Texas State College.

Mrs. Elder went to Japan as a short-term missionary. While there she met Rev. Elder and they were married and have lived as full time missionaries since that time. After serving in Japan for the past nine years, the Elders have returned to this country for a year's furlough.

The Evening Service, sponsored by the Commission on Missions, Mrs. Rae Walters, chairman, will feature A.W. Lair as speaker. Mr. Lair will report on a visit to Methodist Missions Stations in Hong Kong during his recent trip to the Orient.

Green Fees Drop At City Club

The Canyon City Club has made a change in their former green fees in an effort to encourage more golfers to take advantage of the course here. The weekday green fee of 75 cents remains unchanged, and all golfers are invited to come out and enjoy the advantages of club's golfing facilities.

Lows Return From Kontagora Work

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan and with Mrs. Ardis Stamper have been Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Low and their children, Martha, 13, and David, 7. They have a second son, Jonathan, 15.

Dr. Low, a brother of Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Stamper, and his family have returned from mission work in Kontagora, Nigeria, for a year's leave.

Dr. Low, a medical missionary, trained at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas and interned at City-County hospital in Fort Worth. He will take refresher medical courses at Southwestern during the next year.

During the past week, Dr. and Mrs. Low have attended the Baptist Assembly at Glorieta, New Mexico. Martha and David have been visiting the Morgans, and Jonathan is giving his undivided attention to football practice in Dallas. This is a new experience for him and the first time that he has participated in the sport.

Dr. Low is described as a tall, quiet physician who was born 40 years ago in Hunt County, Texas, near Campbell. His wife, Anita, comes from Cass County, near Linden. They have resided in Kontagora, since 1958, after having served for seven years in Southern Baptist mission stations at other points in Nigeria.

The Lows were joined by a second missionary couple from Texas, Gene and Mary Leigh Legg, in building a hospital in Kontagora. As the result, they have been successful in bringing modern medicine to one of the most backward parts of Africa.

Kontagora is a small agricultural community in Nigeria's northern region. In this vast semi-arid area larger than Texas there are virtually no medical facilities for its 18 million people other than those provided by the missionaries such as the Lows and the Leggs.

Several years before the Lows arrived another mission group tried to establish a hospital in Kontagora. They were opposed by the Emir, the Moslem ruler in the province, who was hostile to Christians. The missionaries built their hospital 60 miles northwest of Kontagora. Eventually, when the Emir saw how many of his people were making the long trek, usually on foot, to the hospital, he decided that he had made a mistake and invited the Baptists to build their own on the outskirts of the city.

Work on the $130,000, 32 bed hospital began in 1959. When Dr. Low saw that supervising the construction was leaving him very little time to care for the sick, he turned the contractor's chores over to Legg.

Legg, a 32 year old minister from Mount Pleasant showed a great talent for improvising, and installed the plumbing, and electric wiring and built all the furniture and cabinets. It was all done by trial and error since he had never had any training of this kind.

Legg, a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, had preached for three years at the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, and he and his wife had gone to Nigeria in 1956. He spent four years ministering to the back country, traveling by dug-out canoe and bicycle, before joining Dr. Low.

"You have to work with the congregations, stimulating them and seeing that they hew to the Baptist methods. If left by themselves, they are apt to sneak some of their oldrites in," say the Missionaries. Besides working on the hospital, Legg is currently supervising 80 African churches scattered over 29,000 square miles in the Northern Region.

"There are times when I am discouraged by the slowness of our work. Before I came to Africa I thought people would be waiting for our message. But they're not," Dr. Legg has said.

Today, due to the unstinting labor of the doctor and the minister, the hospital is finished. Word of it has spread through the province, and patients by the hundreds have been coming in from miles around. Many of these are Fulani, the nomadic herdsmen who roam over much of the West African interior with their long-horned, hump-backed cattle.

Like most missionary doctors, Edwin Low works long hours. He operates on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. On Mondays and Thursdays, he sees up to 100 outpatients. Their ailments are a familiar catalogue of African maladies, most prevalent of which are eye diseases. One out of every 100 persons in Nigeria is blind.

The bane of the missionary doctor's existence is the native medicine man. It is second nature for Africans to go to their own healers before they consider a missionary hospital, thereby compounding their troubles.

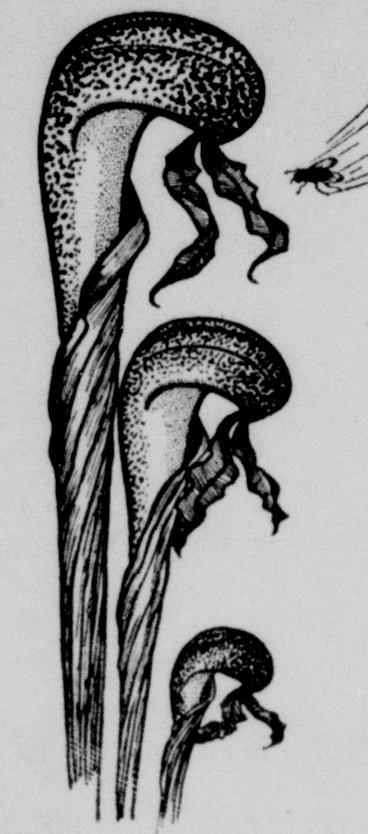

"Unfortunately, they do get results from their medicines because some of them are effective. They have no idea of dosages and believe if a spoonful is effective, a calabash will work that much better," the missionaries say.

At Kontagora, Dr. Low has been operating with discarded, second-hand surgical instruments, donated by other mission hospitals. Recently, he has been presented at $10,000 gift sent by Baptist doctors in Dallas.

Mrs. Low states that it is not easy learning to transplant oneself from a modern way of life with its gadgets to primitive surroundings such as the mission field. They now have running water and electricity provided by their own power plant and water tank.

The missionaries state that these are changing times in Africa. It is a period of adjustment that is difficult for everybody. When they first went to Africa in 1950, the missionary told the African what he needed. Now they remain in the background when they help him. They must still lead since Africans are not well enough trained, but they do it indirectly.

Boys Ranch Slates Annual Rodeo for September 3-4

Roy Boiles, a former Sweetwater boy and the Junior All-Around Cowboy of the 1960 Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Rarley's Boys Ranch will be riding for the Senior title when the rodeo is held over the Labor Day weekend, September 3-4.

Roy came out of the 1960 rodeo with a perfect score, compiling 100 out of a possible 100 points by riding the smaller animals of the rodeo that has become nationally-known as the only one of its kind in the country. It was Roy's first experience as a contestant and this year for the first time he will be eligible to enter the senior division with the older boys of the Ranch.

With nearly 300 boys now living at the ranch, the 17th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo is expected to be the biggest ever held with more young riders contesting for the trophies and prizes than ever before. The Brahma bulls, bucking broncs and steers are all professional rodeo animals that have been taken to the ranch especially for the rodeo. Points will be compiled under the R. C. A. rules.

Younger boys at the ranch ride calves and appear in special feature attractions. It is a rodeo for all of the boys and those who do not participate as contestants work at the many behind-the-scenes activities connected with the occasion. Only outside participation is by the Amarillo Air Force Base band. Huge shade trees around the rodeo arena assure all spectators a cool vantage point from which to watch the event.

All indications are that the 17th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo will be the fastest, most competitive and thrilling the boys have ever had and they anticipate a record-breaking attendance.

The rodeo's two performances, Sunday and Monday, will be held at 2:30 p.m.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by JOHN BRAZZIL

Randall county wheat growers will join with other producers throughout the nation August 24 (today), to decide if marketing quotas will be in effect on their 1962 wheat crop. Quotas will be in effect only if at least two-thirds of the producers vote "yes" in the referendum. Here are the options in a nutshell.

If farmers vote "yes"

1. The price of wheat will be pegged at $2 per bushel or about 84 percent of parity for those who comply with program provisions.

2. There will be mandatory acreage reduction of 10 percent.

3. Payments will be made for diverting wheat acreage and for devoting it to a conservation use.

If farmers vote "no"

1. Price support on wheat will be $1.19 per bushel or 50 percent of parity for those producers planting within acreage allotments.

2. There will be no limit on marketings.

All farmers who have produced 13.5 acres of wheat in at least one of the last three years are eligible to vote. In Texas wives are also eligible voters.

"We do not have a 1962 wheat program now. That will be up to the farmers to decide."

Barley is now included in the feed grain program. Acreage allotments will be made on barley based on past history and cross compliance will be in effect if farms have other feed grains. The Randall County ASC is working hard to give growers information on new program provisions. Many farmers are ready to go into the fields with grain drills today. The lateness of program legislation has caused farmers and program administrators some anxious moments. A little time will solve most of these problems.

Plans for completion and operation of the new building for the Randall County Junior Livestock Association were discussed Tuesday morning by the executive committee of the association. The officers and board of directors will meet again Friday night, at 7:30 p.m. in the Courthouse to make final plans. This will be one of the "busiest" buildings in Canyon. Many groups are now inquiring about programs and schedules.

Lost Glasses At News

Mrs. Jack Hughes of 1903 3rd Avenue has brought to the Canyon News office a pair of prescription lense glasses that her son found in the street near her home.

One ear piece is missing, but from the design and size these are presumably a little girl's glasses. You may come by the News office and claim these, if they are yours, anytime between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

and in instances unfavorable to pelleting. This conclusion was reached from a series of tests for fattening steers. The low concentrate ration contained 47 percent concentrates and the high ration contained 65 percent concentrates.

Oats may be planted in above normal acres this fall. Planting restrictions on wheat and the other feed grains has left many idle acres to be covered. Four varieties of oats are acceptable for fall planting. They are Mustang, Bronco, Wintok, and Cimarron. In severe winters fall seedling of these best ones can be hazardous.

Students Rate First Choice As Career in SWPS Survey

Joe Gidden, manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, today released the results of a survey of some of the state's outstanding high school science students, revealing that engineering is their number one choice as a career, with teaching and research tied for second place.

Third place choice of the students, according to the survey, was a career in physics, followed in order by general science, medicine, mathematics, nuclear physics, chemistry, dentistry and law.

The survey, which was answered by 168 students, indicated that salary was only a secondary consideration in their choice of careers. 93% of the students said they were motivated by their liking of the work in their chosen field. Many listed also the fact that the work would benefit mankind. About half of the students said their choice was also governed by the fact the work pays well, but only one student listed this as the only reason for his choice.

A majority of those expressing a preference as to an employer indicated that they would rather work for private industry, preferably a large company, but only 16 students said they would like to own their own business.

Gail Cox, of Canyon High School, was one of those who attended the June symposium.

Visiting with their mother, Mrs. Hattie Brasuel this past week have been Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Carnes, and children Tommy, George, Susie and John E. of Calexico, Calif.; Mr.

and Mrs. V.J. McGee and children Sally and Susan of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. Troy A. Brasuel and children Jerry, Janet and Mike of Lubbock.

Moore's See 'Lost Colony' On Trip Through East States

(Editor's Note: W.A. Moore is touring several outdoor theatres such as the one planned for Palo Duro Canyon by Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc. He is writing articles for The Canyon News about his trip.)

The drive from Chapel Hill to Manteo, North Carolina, is a beautiful one and just the right length—not far enough to be exhausting and just far enough to be exhilarating.

The beautiful pines, magnolias, crape myrtles and other shrubbery gave way to sand dunes and the boys thought the ferry (they are constructing a long and beautiful seaway to connect Roanoke Island to the southern part of the state) was a welcome bonus.

We stopped at the theatre which one finds about 2 miles this side on Manteo and checked to find that Sib Dorton, the general manager who is doing such a terrific job managing "The Lost Colony." Sib has been around show business all his life (His father managed the State Fair for years) but graduated with a degree in business administration and economics.

We talked about the problems of producing, managing and promoting symphonic dramas and then we went on to our motel in Nags Head. The boys had to have a swim as we were well located right on the beach. We had an early dinner so we could get to the theatre early. Much of the enjoyment in seeing a symphonic drama is to get in the mood for it. We wanted to visit old Fort Raleigh, visit the native craft displays and get the feel of the theatre before the play began.

This is the twenty-first season for the first of Paul Green's symphonic dramas. It is actually 25 years old but there was a four-year black-out during World War II. This year marks the 374th anniversary of the beginning of Anglo-American civilization and the birth of Virginia Dare, the first child born of English parents in America.

It was interesting to us that Marjlene Thomas, who plays Eleanor Dare, the leading feminine role in "The Lost Colony," started working in the production 19 years ago as a little flower girl. She has truly grown up with the play!

For 10 years she was a member of the choir. Incidentally, that is one of the most thrilling factors of the production. The beautiful choral arrangements added much to the emotional effectiveness of the production and the robed choir which opened the play certainly set a dignified mood.

In the 21 years of playing, more than a million people from all over the 50 states and many foreign countries have seen the production.

There are 73 in the cast, 23 on the production staff and the total company numbers 125. There are five married couples in the cast, some having met and married during the run of the show. We enjoyed meeting Val Daugherty of Borger and his talented wife Marilyn whose home was in El Paso before her marriage.

They are both in the choir as well as the cast and enjoy their summers in Manteo very much, they told us. During the winter Val is working on his Ph.D. in music at Michigan State in East Lansing. They told us that there are more than 750 properties in the show ranging all the way from tomahawks to three doll babies of varying size to show the growth of Virginia Dare!

Erin was especially interested in the costumes and found that some of those made in 1937 are still usable, due to the excellent care given them by the costumer, Irene Smart Rains and her five hard working assistants. Each costume is washed by hand and dried in natural heat of the sun. This gives them a wonderful age or "antique" quality. We found that more than 200 costumes are used in the show, some characters having seven or eight changes!

Queen Elizabeth's costume of purple velvet was especially impressive and Erin was impressed to examine it and be told that the more than 1,000 pearls on it were sewn on by hand.

The ending of the play is very touching and the marching off of the colonists into the unknown wilderness is one of those rare moments in the theatre when the audience hardly seemed to breathe. Next day we all enjoyed giving our own ideas about what really happened to those brave colonists.

Next morning we returned to examine the theatre again and also to watch a rehearsal of the understudies. They must be prepared to go on at a moment's notice. Many of them are working on the roles they hope to be cast in some future season.

We went to the lovely Elizabethan Gardens adjoining the theatre which have been placed there by the garden clubs of North Carolina. They are truly lovely and we hated to say goodbye to them but we were due in Manteo to interview people so we regretfully left, hoping to return some day.

Manteo had three indoor bathrooms when "The Lost Colony" opened. Green said he slept on the floor one time when he had to stay over unexpectedly while the play was in preparation. The town is very grateful to the production for bringing in tourist trade so that all businesses have expanded and many new ones have been added.

The town had a gala look the morning we visited it because some new flags with "The Lost Colony" and a picture of Eleanor Dare on them were being hung. Many people were out to admire them.

We could just visualize our town being decked out for our play. It's fun to dream isn't it. But before the realization there must be a dream!

To make this dream come true JOIN THE SYMPHONIC DRAMA GROUP NOW. Our West Texas Play must be the biggest and best of them all. Now we must be off to Williamsburg.
